Proposal

Tell us about your idea in detail We strongly recommend breaking your answer down into four parts: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What do you want to do and how are you going to do it? 2. Who will this work be relevant to and why? This could include intended participants, community groups, audiences, or professional groups. If you have specific demographics in mind, include those too. 3. What activity or knowledge is this work building on and why is now the right time to do it? Refer to previous relevant work that you or others have done and other events that have inspired your idea. 4. What changes are you hoping to see as a result of this work? These could be immediately measurable or contribute to a longer term change. (850 words max.)

Supporting materialWould you like to include any supporting material?

We will shortlist proposals based on your answers above, so make sure you've already included all the important information. If you feel there's important supporting information that helps to illustrate your proposal you can upload it here, but we can't guarantee to look at it.

To submit supporting information, please provide a single page pdf document containing web links that point to the location of your support material. You should make sure that we can access any confidential materials that are not publicly available.

Support material could include:

- draft scripts or treatments
- links to still or moving images e.g. YouTube or Flickr
- reviews or reports of previous activity

- working diagrams or plans to illustrate your work

As a rough guide we would expect supporting information to be drawn from existing material, not things created specifically for this application.

Please note we cannot accept support material in hard copy format.
