Programme summary

Please provide a summary of the proposed programme, including key goals, for an expert audience (200 words max.)

Details of PhD programme

Description of the programme
Please include an outline of why it is needed and the scientific/clinical strengths of the host environment. If appropriate, please ensure the case for a multi-institutional approach is clear. (1,400 words maximum)

(1400 words max.)

Details of the programme
This should include:

- (a) Plans to ensure diversity is addressed across the programme, including student recruitment, composition of the supervisory pool and management;
- (b) Your strategy for ensuring a balanced distribution of students between institutions (if appropriate) and supervisors;
- (c) The plans for broad skills training;
- (d) Your strategy for mentoring trainees during and after their PhD;
- (e) The arrangements that will be put in place to support the academic progress and career development of trainees;
- (f) The planned activities to enable all students, including non-medics supported by the programme, to integrate as a cohort;
- (g) The management and administrative structure of the programme. If appropriate, this should reflect on the special arrangements that will be needed by multi-institutional programmes;
- (h) The role of the Director and co-Directors (if appropriate);

(i) The strategy for managing the reintegration of the students into clinical training;
(j) The resources and infrastructure (to include Clinical Research Facilities and/or Biomedical Research Centres/Units for example) from which the programme will benefit.
No more than 2,000 words should be used to describe the proposal.

(2000 words max.)

You may submit up to two A4 pages of additional information (such as graphs, figures, tables and essential unpublished data).

References

You should give the citation in full, including title of paper and all authors.
